COUPLES CLUB HAS DANCE

The St. Anthony's Couples Club of Mattapoisett commenced their 1966-67 social season on September 9th with an "Indian Summer" dance at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Route 6.

Pumpkins and cornstalks set the mood for the evening's entertainment. The end of the evening was signaled by the serving of a buffet; but it came all too quickly for the many couples as they danced to the music of the "Silver Liners".

The Couples Club was privileged to have as

UNITED FUND CAMPAIGN

Richard A. Smith, Mattapoisett United Fund Campaign chairman, announces that the kick-off for this year's campaign will be initiated by a United Fund premiere showing of the production, "The Greatest Story Ever Told", at the State Theatre in New Bedford at 7:30 on the evening of September 21st, the net proceeds of which will go to the United Fund. The campaign, starting September 21st, will run through October 31, 1966.

There are thirty-seven agencies in the United Fund this year. The Town of Mattapoisett has given some excellent support to this fund in previous years and it is hoped that the residents and town businesses will continue their very good showing in this year's campaign.

There no longer is a house-to-house campaign on behalf of the United Fund. All soliciting is done at an individual's place of business. The only exception to this would be the self-

TOWN COMMITTEE ASKS SUPPORT

Governing a body of people is an expensive business. Good government costs a great deal of money. Unfortunately, bad government costs even more through dishonesty and corruption.

We Republicans feel that we have one of the finest slates of candidates ever to be put on a Massachusetts ballot. Some are requesting that they be returned to office, some are new and are running for the first time. Because of the laws of our society their campaign expenses for the most part must come from the people. For this reason the Mattapoisett Town Republican Committee will be knocking on your door in the next few days asking for your financial support.

The excellent job of governing this Commonwealth and County these last two years cannot be denied. With your financial help now and your vote in November we can all be assured of continuing the clean, honest government we've all enjoyed.

If you wish to contribute directly you may do so by mailing your contribution to the Republican Finance Committee, P. O. Box 71, Mattapoisett, Mass. 02739. Checks should be made payable to the Mattapoisett Town Republican Committee. For further information, or if we can help you in any way, please do not hesitate to call either 758-3568 or 758-2164.

A Farm Boy's Memories of 100 Years Ago XVI

When Father was about 14 or 15 troubles at home made it necessary for him to leave home, to abandon high school, and to get a job to support himself. He went to live with his grandmother, who years before when widowed by the death of Capt. Seth Mendell, had married Thomas Penn Hammond and lived in the lovely old house on the left side of the Neck Road just before the salt marshes. Father always referred to Mr. Hammond as Grandfather Hammond. And of course this step-grandfather was also the father of Father's step-father, his Uncle Ed Hammond, so if blood is thicker than water, this must have had the consistency of cold molasses.

At any rate, Father went to live on a farm that was somewhat different from the one he had been brought up on. Whereas his Uncle Ed ran businesses on the side which brought in cash--the ice business, the slaughtering business, the store--his Grandfather's farm was one of the last of the old type of farm that was an economic unit within itself. Everything that was eaten, the fuel for cooking and heating, the materials for the clothes the family wore, the materials for furniture and utensils--all were grown and made on the farm and woodlot. Thomas Hammond probably didn't pay out or take in $10.00 in cash in a year's time. When articles had to be purchased, like molasses or pepper or buttons, they were paid for by barter with eggs or vegetables or a piece of meat. The only exception was once every few years when a piece of black aplaca cloth was bought to make Mrs. Hammond a new Sunday dress.

In addition to all the farm buildings needed for the livestock and equipment, the farm had its own carpenter shop, harness-making shop, blacksmith shop, shoe-maker's shop, smoke house, and slaughter house. The women folk spun the yarn from the wool and the thread from the flax. They wove cloth from the yarn and linen with the thread. Mr. Hammond made shoes for the whole family from the leather he cured from hides of different animals raised on the farm. Again the only exception was a pair of Sunday-go-to-Meeting shoes for his wife.

Every Thursday Mr. Hammond drove, or if the roads were deep in snow or mud, rode horseback, up to the grist mill carrying a peck of corn and a peck of rye to be ground into meal to be used in cooking during the coming week. He left the grain off at the grist mill at the Herring Weir, and while it was being ground, drove on into the village where he got his copy of the weekly New Bedford Republican Stan-

When Father went to live on this farm, the family consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Hammond and one of Mr. Hammond's old maid sisters. He had had three but two had died, and family tradition has it that they made Father's grandmother's life miserable. But she survived it as she did everything else. She was a small woman, brisk, lively, full of energy, who though small herself, bore and reared seven husky sons.

Although these people were in their seventies, work was the order of life every daylight hour and many in darkness. The hour for rising varied: five o'clock most of the year and four in the summer. Mrs. Hammond did all the cooking in the huge kitchen fireplace. Saturday was baking day and the women baked all day. Before breakfast a fire was built in the big brick oven. When the pots of beans, loaves of bread, the pies and Indian pudding were all made ready, the embers of the fire were raked out of the oven and the beans and bread and sweet stuffs were slid in with a peel. Mr. Hammond was fond of desserts, and whenever Mrs. Hammond forgot to put any on the table, he would finish the main course, lean back, look at his wife, and ask, "Any sweet-dough today, Miz Hammond?"

An unmarried woman had only one choice in those days: to live with a brother or sister and contribute her share of work to the family's welfare. Mr. Hammond's spinster sister, Elizabeth, took care of all the spinning and weaving, and all of the clothes-making for the whole family and was quite noted as a tailoress. Father's most vivid memory of the old lady was seeing her weaving on a winter's day. Only two rooms of the house were heated: the kitchen by its huge fireplace and the living room by a stove. In winter every other room was like an ice house. As was customary, the big hand loom was in the attic which was coldest of all. How to spot the man with a Ph.D.

A short recognition course on our new Ph.D. suits from Michaels/Stern

PH.D. stands for Philosophy of Dress. A slightly stuffy name for a suit style that's decidedly un-stuffy. Here's how to recognize it.

No fussy shoulder padding. No exaggerated curves at the waist. No cute cuffs on the sleeves. No nothing that shouldn't be there.

Ph.D. is our classic natural-shoulder suit style from Michaels/Stern. We've just unpacked all the new ones for Fall. Come on in and have a look at them.
